MARIGOLD INDUSTRIAL® GETS TOUGH ON PERFORMANCE AT H+S 09

Hand protection expert Marigold Industrial Ltd will focus on tough performance at February's Health + Safety 09 at Sandown.

With one of the widest selection of safety glove solutions for those people requiring high performance all round hand protection when working in tough environments, the company will be showcasing the very latest editions to its product offering including:

The Yellow and Orange Viz PF Insulator™ - Marigold Industrial's hi-vis gloves are ideally suited for those undertaking a range of outdoors tasks in industries such as construction and utilities to railway and local authorities.

The natural rubber coating on the palm and the fully coated thumb, not only gives good protection and tear performance, but also provides excellent wet and dry grip thanks to the wrinkle finish, while its thermal, terry loop, seamless lining will ensure workers hands are kept warm.

The already highly popular Nitrotough™ range introduces the new N1000 series, consisting of the N1200, N1300, N1500 & N1600 for those wanting a high degree of flexibility and durability with optimum dexterity. Available in either rough or smooth finish with a choice of 3/4 or fully dipped coating the new additions are ideal for general handling.

Added benefits of the new N1000 series include the fact every product in the range is food handling approved and also conform to the Oeko-Tex Standard 100, guaranteeing that the textiles used in the manufacture of the new gloves are carcinogen free, tested against pesticides and phenol chlorine, contain no heavy metals, have little or no formaldehyde, have a neutral pH, are accelerator free and have no added biocides.

Joining the latest products on the Marigold Industrial® stand, will be the newly revamped and re-launch Grasp Hand & Arm Protection Report, providing a wealth of information to health and safety managers on managing hand and arm protection in the workplace.

Marigold Industrial® will also be giving visitors to its stand the chance to win a VIP day at Sandown Park's prestigious Gold Cup horse race meeting in April.
